HOW WE HOLD YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We understand that the security of your personal information is important to you so we take steps to protect your personal information from misuse, interference, loss and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure. These steps include:

- training all of our staff on the appropriate handling of personal information
- restricting access to our computer systems, physical records and premises to authorised persons, and
- protecting our technology environment with appropriate security measures such as firewalls and encryption.

We will normally hold your information in a database.

MULTIPLE RECORDS

Should we hold multiple records of your personal information, subject to legal and contractual obligations, we will link the multiple instances of your personal information together so that we can better manage our business relationship with you when we are carrying out our functions and activities.

ARCHIVING

Personal information that is no longer needed but is required to be held is stored in a secure offsite facility.

DESTRUCTION/DE-IDENTIFICATION

We take steps to destroy or permanently de-identify personal information if it is no longer needed for any purpose. If we inadvertently come into possession of personal information that is not relevant to our functions or activities, we will destroy that information.

All information is subject to our Records Retention and Destruction Policy available on our website www.collectionhouse.com.au.

PURPOSES THAT WE COLLECT, HOLD, USE AND DISCLOSE PERSONAL INFORMATION

We collect, hold, use and disclose your personal information so that we can undertake our functions and activities efficiently and effectively, including:

- identifying you
- contacting you
- responding to your enquiries
- administering our relationship with you and/or with your original credit provider
- entering into suitable recovery arrangements with you in relation to the defaulted, cancelled and/or terminated credit facilities
- providing you with financial solutions such as credit products and services;
- processing applications for employment
- providing defaulted, cancelled and/or terminated credit facility recovery services and the associated administration services of performing this function, including where applicable administering the provision of legal services
- meeting legal or other regulatory obligations imposed on us

- auditing and managing the usage of our website
- to update our records and keep your contact details up to date
- to process and respond to any communication or complaint made by you to us, or to your original credit provider, or with our external dispute resolution providers;
- by engaging contractors to carry out a function or activity for us, and
- to comply with any law, rule, regulation, lawful and binding determination, decision or direction of a regulator, or other governmental authority.

Unless you consent or we are otherwise permitted to do so by law, personal information will only be used for the purpose for which it was collected (the “primary purpose”) or for a purpose related, or in the case of sensitive information, directly related to the primary purpose (the “secondary purpose”).

The main consequences of us not collecting personal information are an inability or delay in being able to identify you, contact you or provide financial solutions or other products and services to you.

We do not use your tax file number, pension number, driver’s license number, Australian Business Number, Medicare number or any other government derived identifier as an account number or as our own identifier for you. However, we may request provision of one of these identifiers to assist in evidencing your identity when you deal with us.

We only disclose personal information in accordance with the Privacy Act. This may involve disclosing such information to:

- organisations forming part of the Collection House Group of companies
- our authorised agents
- our legal advisers
- to the original credit provider
- your authorised representatives
- courts and tribunals
- our service providers where we outsource functions (such as, but not limited to, process serving, repossession, bulk mail handling or document storage and destruction)
- any entity that may acquire an interest in your credit facility, and
- other persons with your consent.

We may also disclose certain credit related personal information to credit reporting bodies. For example, if you fail to meet repayment obligations, we may be entitled to disclose that information to a credit reporting body. When such information is disclosed to a credit reporting body, the credit reporting body may include such information in reports that are subsequently provided to credit providers to assist them in assessing your credit worthiness.

DIRECT MARKETING

We may undertake direct marketing to you of products and services that we consider may be of interest or benefit to you. We may contact you for direct marketing purposes in a variety of ways including by mail, email, SMS, telephone, online advertising or facsimile.

If you do not want your personal information used for direct marketing purposes, please contact our Resolution Team to opt-out at any time.

All contractors are under Agreement and are required to comply with the Privacy Act and the APPs when fulfilling their functions and activities.

OUR WEBSITE

When you visit our website, we may send a 'cookie' to your computer. A cookie is a small message given to your web browser by our web server. Your browser stores the message in a text file and the message is then sent back to our web server each time your browser requests a page from our web server.

We make limited use of cookies on our website. We may use cookies to measure usage sessions accurately and to gain a clear picture of which areas of our website attract traffic. We may also use cookies to improve the functionality of our website.

When cookies are used on this site, they are used to store information relating to your visit such as a unique identifier or a value to indicate whether you have seen a web page. We may use session and permanent cookies. They are used to distinguish your internet browser from the thousands of other browsers.

Most internet browsers are set up to accept cookies. If you do not wish to receive cookies, you may be able to change the settings of your browser to refuse all cookies or to notify you each time a cookie is sent to your computer, giving you the choice whether to accept it or not.

As our website is linked to the internet and the internet is inherently insecure, we cannot provide any assurance regarding the security of transmission of information you communicate to us online. We also cannot guarantee that the information you supply will not be intercepted while being transmitted over the internet. Accordingly, any personal information or other information that you transmit to us online is transmitted at your own risk.

ACCESSING YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

You can request access to your personal information by submitting a completed Personal Information Request Form and a copy of your driver's license or another form of government identification document to our Resolutions Team. The Personal Information Request Form is available on our website or by contacting our Resolutions Team. We will provide you with a copy of your personal information within a reasonable period after the request is made, usually within 30 days.

In some cases, we may charge a reasonable fee to provide access to your personal information, but we will never charge you a fee to make a request. If a fee will apply, we will advise you before we provide access.

In certain circumstances we are permitted to withhold or limit access to your personal information. If this happens, we will inform you of the reasons for this where possible.

In certain circumstances you may have the right to access your personal information under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 by making a Freedom of Information request.

SEEKING CORRECTION OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We will take reasonable steps to ensure that your personal information is accurate, up-to-date, complete, relevant and not misleading. If you believe the personal information we hold about you is not correct, please contact our Resolutions Team. We will provide you with a copy of your personal information within a reasonable period after the request is made, usually within 30 days.

If we are unable to correct your personal information, we will advise you of this in writing and provide the reason.
